

Search For POW Escapees

Anti-Communists
Break Way Out
Of Marching Line
Of War Prisoners

KOJE ISLAND, Korea (U. S. troops hunted today for missing comrades of 399 frightened anti-Communist prisoners of war who broke away from 4,800 marching Reds.

The breakaway came during an otherwise orderly evacuation of the fourth trouble-ridden POW enclosure at this United Nations prison camp.

The anti-Red POWs said the missing prisoners had been held before Communist kangaroo courts before today's transfer. They didn't report the number.

Death at the hands of their die-hard leaders was the fate of 16 POWs missing from an enclosure emptied Wednesday.

The camp commander, Brig. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, is expected to order evacuation of a fifth compound, No. 66, tomorrow. Some of the 2,700 ugly-tempered North Korean officers and 650 non-coms there are reported fashioning knives and spears.

Boatner met today with their leaders, some of whom were shown the smoldering wreckage of Compound 76, the first to be emptied. Thirty-nine prisoners died and at least 150 were injured there in a Tuesday battle with U. S. paratroopers. The 39th death was reported today. Many of the 39 were spared to death by fellow Reds.

Compound 66 is guarded by one company of the King's Shropshire Light Infantry of Britain, and one company of the Royal Canadian Regiment. However, indications were that the U. S. 38th Regiment would supervise the evacuation.

The remains of 16 savagely killed prisoners were dug up in the third emptied compound, No. 77. But so far soldiers found no bodies in the fourth, No. 95. Unlike No. 77, there were no homemade weapons or escape tunnels.

Transfer of POWs from No. 95 brought operation break-up to the 30 per cent mark. Brig. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, Koje commander, intends to wrest control of the 80,000 internees from their Red leaders by moving them to new, smaller compounds and splitting them into groups of about 500.

Some 24,400 have been moved. Thirteen compounds remain to be emptied and there is a chance of violence in at least two of them.

The transfer from compound No. 95 was orderly, in contrast to the hour fight that left 38 prisoners killed and 150 wounded when the first compound—No. 76—was emptied Tuesday.

Many of the 500 POWs who broke away plainly feared death at the hands of their Red leaders. Other who tried to escape were dragged by the Communists into compound 91, their new, temporary enclosure. "Now we will live," one grateful North Korean soldier sighed after he had safely fled the marching Reds.

The anti-Red POWs broke away in groups of up to 100 men. They tore off their Red star-decorated hats, trampled them in the dust and awaited the arrival of guards.

The evacuation started with exchange of salutes and handshakes between the leader of the compound and Gen. Boatner. The Allied camp commander said no one would be hurt if orders were obeyed. He rejected the Red leader's request for an hour's delay.

Intelligence officers found the Reds' documents burned. They surmised word of the transfer had come through the prison "grapevine." Leaders of compound 95 surrendered the bodies of eight prisoners killed in an April 10 clash with Allied guards.

The 4,800 Reds were herded temporarily into compound 91, where unarmed guards moved freely among them.

The 500 who broke away were taken for questioning to compound 61. Guards put with them 20 anti-Communists who scaled the barbed wire fence of 91.

The new official total of 16 bodies dug up in compound 77 is one more than yesterday's figure. The army found nine bodies in one well and the others in trenches and an abandoned well.

At least 12 of the 38 prisoners killed in the bloody transfer of the 6,400 in compound 76 Tuesday died at the hands of their leaders for trying to quit the battle with troops of the 187th U. S. Airborne regiment.

Transfer of 6,400 more prisoners from compound 78 followed, with no violence.

Seven leaders were seized, as U. S. paratroopers met light resistance in emptying compound 77 of its 6,288 POWs Wednesday. Some 70 broke from line to seek protection from their die-hard comrades.

Thousands of knives, spears and other weapons were found inside barracks and tents, and an incomplete tunnel led toward compound 76.

Guards say some of the 2,700 North Korean officers and 650 enlisted men of compound No. 66 have been beating out knives and spears. Another possible trouble spot is No. 62, containing 6,000 civilian internees.

Boatner informed leaders of compound 66 they could tour the island to see treatment of prisoners already transferred. One leader was shown the smoldering ruins of No. 76.

Truck Freight Rate Increases Granted Today

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. — The State Public Service Commission today granted truck freight rate increases ranging from 10 to 20 per cent on shipments within the state.

The rate boosts apply to freight carried by the 260 common carrier operators who have authority to haul between Missouri cities. They become effective July 15.

Estimated by PSC spokesmen to boost shippers' costs about $1,000,000 a year, the rate hike is 12 per cent on truckload shipments and 20 per cent on those of less than truck load size.

The boost was asked by some 15 common carriers that normally haul from 90 to 95 per cent of the truck freight within Missouri. He had asked an overall increase of 20 per cent, but the PSC decided 12 per cent would be enough increase on truckload lots.

The companies said increased revenue was needed to meet higher operating costs.

As an example, the minimum rate for a small shipment was $1.10 in Missouri. Under the new schedule the rate for the same article will be $1.50.

Defense Testimony Starts for Commies

LOS ANGELES (U. S. — Defense testimony has started in behalf of four of the 14 California Communist party leaders charged with conspiracy to teach and advocate the overthrow of the government by force and violence.

One of the defendants, Oleta O'Connor Yates, former University of California student, told the jury yesterday she became interested in Communism in 1949 while in school. She said she read books by Karl Marx and others and the "Communist Manifesto."

Rodeo Parade Has 325 Horses Entered for Next Thursday

Horses, horses, horses — for the big State Fair Rodeo parade next Thursday, June 19, keep coming in faster and faster — but there is time for more entries. Anyone who wants to ride in the parade may still register at the office of Guy Peabody, parade marshal.

Mr. Peabody has listed already 325 horses. Last year there were only 181 horses in the parade. In addition to the horses from this area, the Rodeo will furnish 30 trained horses and there will be a number of western pioneer bugles and wagons.

Boatner informed leaders of compound 66 they could tour the island to see treatment of prisoners already transferred. One leader was shown the smoldering ruins of No. 76.

Believes Ike Still Can Win

Gov. Payne, Maine,
Sees Eisenhower
Making Full Sweep
Of GOP Convention

NEW YORK (U. S. — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower "can swamp the convention and swamp the election," Gov. Frederick G. Payne of Maine said today after a short conference with the general.

The governor was one of a steady stream of Republican supporters and convention delegates who have been calling on Eisenhower at his Columbia University home this week.

More still were in the waiting line today.

Payne said nine of Maine's 16 delegates are Eisenhower supporters, and that two presently uncommitted probably would swing to the general's side. He said five back Sen. Robert A. Taft.

These figures tally with Associated Press findings on the stand of Maine delegates.

Two uncommitted members of the 6-man South Carolina delegation spent 20 minutes with the general, and came away still not talking about whom they would support for the nomination. (An AP tabulation on South Carolina shows one for Eisenhower, three for Taft and two uncommitted.)

Another visitor was movie magazine Spyros Skouras, who said he saw the general on a "personal matter."

For an hour this morning, Eisenhower was away from his home for a trip to his eye doctor's office, where he had a checkup a few days ago. He told reporters the check showed "his eyes were perfect."

He was troubled recently with "pink eye." Aides said his eyes had been slightly inflamed when he awakened this morning.

Eisenhower was quoted yesterday as saying he favors a 40-billion-dollar tax cut over the next two or three years through more economy in government and less deficit spending.

Ike Opposes Dividing Germany Into Zones

NEW YORK (U. S. — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said today he opposed the division of Germany into separate zones at the end of the war and also was against isolating Berlin.

He made the statement in answer to questions put to him by members of the New Jersey Republican delegation.

Eisenhower also said he did not participate in either the Yalta or Potsdam conferences and that his advice was not accepted on the decision taken there.

A delegate asked directly whether the establishment of the line of demarcation between the Allied and Russian armies in Germany was Eisenhower's decision.

"I was opposed to the division of Germany into separate parts," he said. "That was one of the pieces of advice that was not accepted."

The delegate then asked who did establish the zones, and the isolation of Berlin as a partially Allied city within the Soviet Zone.

"The European Advisory Commission met in London in 1944, as I recall," Eisenhower said, "this commission took these actions. Later I understood they were approved at Yalta."

"As soon as the armistice was signed, we were directed to get back into our own areas as rapidly as possible. We were forced to retreat 150 miles after the war — we had been attacking as far down as Leipzig — and we have to go back to the line picked by the politicians."

The general also was asked whether he participated in the Yalta and Potsdam conferences. He said emphatically, "I did not. I participated in no political decisions of the war."

"I gave my opinions voluntarily on one or two things, but they weren't accepted."

Earlier Gov. Frederick G. Payne of Maine conferred with the candidate for the Republican presidential nomination. Payne said he thinks Eisenhower "can swamp the convention and swamp the election."

Mrs. Henderson Found 'Not Guilty' Today

BULLETIN
Mrs. Genevieve Decker Henderson was found "not guilty" of first degree murder in the death of her former husband by a jury which returned its verdict at 3:25 o'clock this afternoon.

The jury received instructions from the court and heard final arguments this morning in the first degree murder trial of Mrs. Genevieve Decker Henderson, the Saline County Circuit Court at Marshall. At 1 o'clock the 12 men began the deliberations toward a verdict.

In an effort to explain how the knife wound, which caused the death of Theodore Decker in Sedalia on Nov. 6, 1947, could have been inflicted, Defense Attorney Fred F. Wesner laid down on the floor of the Saline County Circuit Court room in the closing arguments Thursday morning.

Wesner, who is the chief counsel for the defense of Mrs. Genevieve Decker Henderson, who was charged in the death of her former husband, had told the jury of 12 men previously that, "we are not trying Mrs. Henderson with any connection with marijuana, dope or whether she was true to her now deceased, former husband. We can not condone such action in your findings in this case."

Mr. Wesner continued, "the state has failed miserably to make a case that the deceased was murdered by the defendant."

Judge Phil Cook had previously instructed the jury after which Harold Bamberg, acting prosecuting attorney, opening the arguments to the jury for the state, pointed out the various points of state's evidence which he linked together in asking the jury to return a verdict of guilty against the defendant.

Bamberg was followed by Robert Johnson, Marshall, defense attorney, who referred to instructions of the court to the jury. He pointed out certain evidence which the state was relying upon, all circumstantial, should not be considered.

He told the jury, "you should be told by the state why they did not prosecute the defendant on the so called marijuana charges as that is definitely against the state laws."

In closing he said, "the state relied solely on circumstantial evidence and I ask you gentlemen to return a 'not guilty' verdict."

Mr. Wesner was the next defense lawyer. He asked the state to produce the knife which was allegedly used on Decker and before the jury he criticized the state for not introducing it as evidence.

He pointed out the fingerprints, if found on the knife were those of Decker himself. It was then that Wesner laid on the floor to demonstrate how the wounds could have been inflicted if the deceased had stabbed himself or if someone else had done it.

He then pieced together the evidence in the case endeavoring to show the jury that in no way pointed to Mrs. Henderson and asked for a "not guilty" verdict.

Brady Duncan was the last to appear before the jury. In opening remarks, he made reference to comments made by Mr. Johnson to the jury concerning the heat and how it was trying and he stated, "it isn't the heat which made everybody sick, it was the evidence the defense had to listen to."

He referred to the state's case and emphasized the telephone calls made to Ideal Packing Company Plant about which Charles Weller and Ted Gardner testified. In closing he asked for a verdict of guilty.

The jury is composed of Harry Townsend, Kenneth Slattery, Ray Donnell, Charles Shrader, Oscar Pare, R. E. Hendricks, John W. John, Otto M. Meyer, Charles Litton, J. E. Brown, Francis Yeagle and Howard Leffman.

Fifty witnesses had been subpoenaed, according to Berkely Hall, Saline County Circuit Court clerk, but only 26 witnesses testified. Two witnesses were recalled but only one appeared to testify.

Decker was found stabbed to death in his grocery store, 1115 East Fifth, early the morning of Nov. 6, 1947. Since that time investigations have been conducted by the sheriff's office, the Sedalia police department, the state highway patrol and James Roark, a private investigator.

It was not until Dec. 27, 1950 that charges were filed in the case and they were for first degree murder against the then Mrs. Henderson.

Mrs. Decker on July 2, 1948 had married Glenn R. Henderson. Since early 1951 Mrs. Henderson had been at liberty under bond, the case being continued and a change of venue being taken from Pettis County to the Saline County Circuit Court.

The state was represented by Acting Prosecuting Attorney Harold Bamberg, assisted by State's Assistant Attorney General Brady by stating "the defense rests."

Soviets Extend Shoot-to-Kill Border Orders

Red Security Measures Now Including
Border Around Berlin as Well as West
German Frontier Previously Set Up

BERLIN (U. S. — The Soviet Zone government decreed today an extension of its shoot-to-kill security measures to include the border around Berlin as well as the frontier with West Germany.

An order signed by Communist Boss Walter Ulbricht deputy prime minister, directed the state security police to "extend generally" the measures begun at first on the interzonal frontier to "hinder the entrance of diversions, spies and terrorists in the territory of the German Democratic Republic."

It provided sentences at least two years in jail for violators "unless they are not liable for higher punishment under other regulations."

The death penalty is already provided for major violators of a catch-all Communist law "for protection of the peace."

The order came as the Western High Commission met in this blockade-threatened city for a discussion of the Communist squeeze.

The commission's visit here from Bonn was a gesture of Allied support for the troubled West Berliners, who have lived through one Russian blockade and are afraid the Russians may be plotting another.

The West German government did its reassuring bit, sending its finance minister, Fritz Schafer, here today to discuss plans for federal economic aid to West Berlin's endangered industries.

The Communists, meanwhile, whipped up a public school campaign of hate and rearmament against the West in East Germany.

Today is "teachers' day" in East Germany. At meetings throughout the Russian-occupied, Communist-ruled zone, teachers were exhorted to "increase the defense readiness of our youth and rear them in irreconcilable hatred of the imperialist war-kindlers."

The schools will be called upon to furnish thousands of young recruits for the 375,000-man army which East Germany is preparing. Plans for requiring rifle training in all high schools already have been indicated.

The British commandant in Berlin, Maj. Gen. C. F. C. Coleman, protested to the Russians today against the kidnapping of three West Berliners from the British sector last Tuesday.

The victims, two newspapermen and an innkeeper, are still held by the Communists.

Coleman's protest said they were "on the edge of the British sector" when a Russian soldier and East German police seized them at gunpoint.

Asked about Decker using a word for dope, she replied she referred to marijuana or dope as "stuff" and she said, "that word marijuana was a new one to me, and I didn't know what it was, he just said stuff."

R. A. Lance, former Sedalia now of Topeka, who sold for the Anderson Parks Tobacco Co. of Springfield and called upon the Decker store, was next to the stand. Lance testified of Mrs. Decker trying to sell him some marijuana cigarettes, before her husband returned from the service.

He also testified as to a conversation with Decker the day before he died. He said that Decker had asked him if he had sold Mrs. Decker any marijuana cigarettes.

He also said Decker asked him if he knew she was selling them.

Lance said he gave Decker an evasive answer as he didn't want to get mixed up in the marital affairs.

Mrs. May Arnold, Sedalia, testified as to a call Mrs. Henderson had received at the time Mr. and Mrs. Orval Decker were at her home in which the Deckers said Mrs. Theodore Decker had told them it was May Arnold wanting her to stay all night at her home.

Mrs. Arnold denied calling her. Mrs. Harold Garrett, 711 South New York, who in Nov. 1947, resided at 315 South Engineer testified she was on a telephone party line with the Deckers. She said she heard her phone ring at 6:10 a. m. that morning and fixed the time because she looked at her clock as she felt it was early. She said the ring was for Mrs. Decker.

At this point Brady Duncan, state's assistant attorney general, who is assisting Acting Prosecuting Atty. Bamberg, asked that the witness Sterling Leroy Laidman be recalled. After a time Judge Cook asked the attorneys call their witnesses. Duncan then explained he wanted Laidman but it appeared he had disappeared. "Call another witness," Judge Cook said, and the sheriff was sent to call Sgt. W. S. Berton of the State Highway Patrol.

"Several minutes later the sheriff returned and explained 'the witness Laidman.' And the court took another short recess."

Later Sgt. Barton appeared and was questioned regarding the investigation he had made in the case. He told of his talk with Mrs. Henderson. On cross examination George Miller questioned Barton.

At this point Bamberg announced, "the state rests. Another brief recess was taken."

Wesner called to the stand Jack Mulalley, who was weighmaster for the City of Sedalia in 1947. Mulalley identified the receipt book which he kept and the book in which a record of the corn and truck of Ward Glenn was weighed.

He also identified his handwriting and said he made the entry on the weights.

Later Duncan cross examined him and pointed out the changing of a date on one ticket which had no connection with that of Glenn's ticket, at the irregularities of several other dates.

Wesner then surprised the court by stating "the defense rests."

Milk Price Drops 1 Cent Here Today

Local dairies today reduced the wholesale price of milk in Sedalia one cent per quart and immediately the independent retail grocers announced they cut the retail price by the same amount.

Most milk products are included in the price drop.

Howard Gwinn, president of the Sedalia Retail Grocers Association, made the announcement.

South Korea Bans 'Voice' Broadcasts

Americans Have Been Using 10
Government Stations

PUSAN, Korea (U. S. — The South Korean government has banned Voice of America broadcasts over the 10-station government network, accusing it of "bitterly anti-government" and "obviously insulting" remarks.

The Voice has included in its three daily broadcasts editorial excerpts from many U. S. and other foreign newspapers attacking President Syngman Rhee and scoring recent political developments here.

The U. S. State Department broadcasting agency has been using the South Korean government network for two years as a courtesy and not on a contract, said Dr. Clarence Rhee, director of the government's office of public information.

"However much we may question the taste and judgment of the persons responsible for such broadcasts," Rhee told newsmen, "we do not dispute the airing of such opinions under other auspices."

"But in this case the auspices were the ROK (Republic of Korea) government radio itself — used to carry bitterly anti-government criticism, obviously insulting."

"I am aware that this can still be done by the Voice of America from abroad and brought into Korea, but I am determined that the Korean government station will not be used to turn down its own sovereign state."

He said that for the government to continue carrying foreign criticism on its own radio would be "like lending a man a pistol to shoot you."

Rhee said it pained him "for the agency of the great United States government, our gallant and sincere friend in time of adversity, to be a party to smearing a sovereign ally."

A U. S. embassy official confirmed that the Voice broadcasts were suspended last night. He said no protest was planned here; that if any were made it would have to come from Washington.

In Washington the State Department said it received a preliminary report on the broadcast ban today from Ambassador John J. Muccio. Department officials said the same programs — many of them carrying material critical of Rhee's political maneuvers — are being broadcast in the Korean language from Voice facilities in the Far East. Those are centered in Japan and the Philippines.

Rhee said use of the government network would be restored to the Voice "at once" if the Korean government is assured that the agency would not use the facilities "improperly."

Editorials carried on the voice programs had criticized President Rhee for declaring martial law May 25 and for ignoring demands of the National Assembly and United Nations representatives here to lift it.

More than 10,000 supporters of Rhee massed here today and demanded the assembly be dissolved.

Rhee and the assembly are at odds over the manner of selecting a president. Eleven assemblies were arrested under martial law for questioning in connection with government-alleged bribery.

Toasting Thursday

Old Man Weather's confidential secretary, I. R. Mercury, has found living quarters in a penthouse and has moved in from the cellar dwelling he occupied all winter. Reports are he likes the elevator rides up to the top after his morning constitutional — a walk down to a cafeteria on the 60th floor.

As a result, Mr. Mercury has been registering high temperatures here during Torrid Tuesday, Wilted Wednesday and now Toasting Thursday. Unless someone can get the elevator to run down instead of up it looks like Frying, Friday (the 13th) will be next.

"I'll let by-gones be by-gones and forget it," the Ohio senator said.

At Trenton, Driscoll said, "my door is wide open at all time."

Just before the New Jersey primary last April, Taft forces charged Driscoll used "political trickery" in endorsing Eisenhower. Driscoll denied the charge, but Taft cancelled his New Jersey campaign plans and made an unsuccessful effort to have his name taken off the ballot.

Driscoll did not accompany the New Jersey delegation today.

Taft told newsmen after meeting the New Jerseyans that he had had one of the delegates backing him. Asked how sure he was of their support, the senator said:

"Either I, or substantial representatives have talked with them and have had assurances."

Asked how many of the New Jerseyans he would count on during the second ballot at the Chicago convention, Taft replied:

"There may not be any second ballot."

Vote No Seizure Powers

Committee Turns
Down Proposal
To Empower HST
To Grab Steel Mills

WASHINGTON (U. S. — A House committee voted down 15 to 10 today a proposal that President Truman be empowered to seize and operate the struck steel mills.

It was the first formal vote by any House group since Truman went before Congress Tuesday and pleaded for this power.

The Senate previously had rebuffed Truman by voting that he should use anti-strike provisions of the Taft-Hartley Law in an effort to end the strike of 650,000 CIO steel workers. And today Senators favoring seizure power for the President abandoned their fight to write it into wage-price control legislation. They said they would propose it again later in a separate bill.

The seizure question was raised in the House Banking Committee by Rep. Bolling (D-Mo) who proposed it as an amendment to legislation extending the economic controls law.

Escapee Stabs Girl Fatally; Cops Get Him

CARMEL, N.Y. (P)—An escaped convict, making a desperate effort to seize a getaway car, stabbed a 9-year-old girl hostage to death yesterday as police closed in on him.

Hit by three police bullets, the convict surrendered and was taken to a hospital.

His little victim, stabbed with a butcher knife as her mother looked on helplessly, died an hour later.

The slayer, Donald Snyder, 25, of Canastota, N.Y., gave warning of his desperation and cried:

"If you come near me, I'll stab the child."

Alex Williams, 45, school bus driver and a special policeman, tried to persuade Snyder to release the child, Betty Lou Arnold, 25, of Canastota, N.Y., gave warning of his desperation and cried:

Williams fired two more shots, and Snyder gave up the fight.

Williams drove the school bus that brought Betty Lou home late yesterday.

The little girl, daughter of a prosperous hardware merchant, was crossing the lawn to join her young sister and another child when Snyder emerged from behind a bush.

He walked up to the house and told Mrs. Snyder:

"I'm an escaped convict. The cops are after me. I'm not fooling. I want you to let me in here or I'll take your children."

The mother screamed to the children: "Run, Run!" Two of them ran, but Snyder seized Betty Lou. Williams, seeing Snyder grab the child, drove away to get his gun.

As Mrs. Arnold ran toward a phone, Snyder kicked open the house door, dragged Betty Lou into the kitchen and grabbed the butcher knife.

He told the woman: "I want you to drive me to New York"—more than 50 miles away.

As Snyder held the knife close to the child, her mother led them to the cellar garage and they got into the family car.

While Mrs. Arnold stalled for time, Williams arrived with his gun. He and State Trooper Raymond Scarrachio, summoned by neighbors, sought to rescue the child.

Snyder, who was serving a 2½-5 year term in Green Haven State Prison for auto theft, had escaped Tuesday.

Rutnam County Dist. Atty. Fred A. Dickinson said a murder charge against Snyder would be presented to a grand jury tomorrow.

Wren Steals Coins From Lady's Mailbox

DOVER, O. (P)—They finally spotted the thief who has been stealing coins from Mrs. D. L. Staneart's mail box.

But forgiving postal authorities have decided against prosecution.

The dastardly deeds have been perpetrated by a wren that entered a small opening in the box at nearby Tippecanoe. The coins had been left to pay for postage.

Mrs. Staneart hasn't found out yet what the bird does with the money.

Hot Action As UN Moves On In Korea

SEOUL, Korea (P)—United Nations fighter-bombers and tanks today blasted Chinese Reds on two Western Front hills with deadly explosives and burning jellied gasoline, in support of attacking Allied ground troops waging one of the war's hottest actions this year.

An Allied officer at the front called the fight "probably the biggest thing that's happened here all week."

The stepped-up fighting broke out Saturday around Chorwon, 48 miles north of Seoul, when U.N. infantrymen captured two high points. The Reds have tried unsuccessfully every day since to knock the Allies back.

The officer said fighter bombers strafed, bombed and fire-bombed Chinese positions on the hills throughout the morning and carried their attack into the afternoon.

Both sides used tanks or self-propelled guns, artillery and mortars.

No count was given, but Allied authorities said hundreds of Reds had been killed and wounded in the six days of vicious fighting around Chorwon.

There was no indication that the flareup was a curtain-raiser to a Red offensive, threatened repeatedly by Communist negotiators at the Panmunjom truce talks.

The U.S. Fifth Air Force says its aerial spotters have found no indication of a Red buildup but cautioned that the Communists are good at camouflage and concealment.

Both sides continued heavier attacks and probes at other spots along the 155-mile battlefield.

The U.S. Eighth Army said Allied defenders repulsed nine probes on the Eastern Front by about 10 Red platoons, some 350 men.

GOP Platform Group Will Hear All Corners

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. Eugene Millikin of Colorado said today the Republican National Convention Platform Committee he heads is willing to hear all corners before it begins writing the GOP platform at Chicago.

The six or eight subcommittees of the main group will begin hearings at Chicago about a week before the convention starts on July 7. Millikin told a reporter. Any witness who appears will be given a hearing, he said.

yesterday that she be paid in a lump sum based on a life expectancy of 22.49 years. She is 59 and has been receiving $300 monthly alimony.

The bulk of the "Woo Woo" comedian's estate was left to the Motion Picture Relief Fund.

tee meeting here generally went home with the feeling that as Pennsylvania and Michigan go, so may go the GOP presidential nomination.

And what Eisenhower says in his conferences with delegates and in a major speech in Detroit may have a great deal to do with whether he can corral a majority of Pennsylvania's 70 votes and the lion's share of Michigan's 46.

In Pennsylvania, Gov. John S. Fine apparently will determine how more than 30 of the state's votes will be cast. The Associated Press tabulation credits Eisenhower with 20 and Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, his chief rival for the nomination, with 18.

In Michigan, the man who holds the vital cards on a majority of that state's 46-member delegation is Arthur Summerfield, national committeeman.

Gov. Fine last night denied published reports that he suggested a coalition of Pennsylvania, Michigan and Maryland delegates—who will cast a total of 140 votes—in an effort to decide the nomination battle.

A coalition of this kind might be difficult to establish because of the conflicting factors bearing on the final decision in each state.

According to reports, Fine doesn't have to worry about getting a national nominee who can carry Pennsylvania. Most party members there think either Taft or Eisenhower would turn the trick.

But Summerfield and Gov. Theodore McKeldin of Maryland primarily want the nominee most likely to carry their states.

Summerfield and Fine apparently have no national political ambitions. McKeldin definitely has and the other two may not be particularly interested in promoting them.

Summerfield won't talk about what the Michigan delegation will do. But from extensive conversations with the national committeeman here, this reporter reaches these conclusions:

1. In the final analysis, Summerfield will ask a majority of the Michigan group—about 33, in fact—to vote for the man he believes will best help the Republicans carry the state in November.

2. At this point, Summerfield and many of the delegates believe a ticket headed by Eisenhower would be more likely to give the Republicans victory over Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Sen. Blair Moody than a ticket headed by Taft.

3. But Eisenhower has failed to satisfy Summerfield and his colleagues by his utterances since he came home from France that he is the kind of Republican that they want and that can win in November.

Thus the general, when he speaks out in a frankly political speech Saturday night, will be on trial with the state delegation members he will have met personally earlier in the day.

If he satisfies them he is a middle of the road Republican—which he hasn't done yet—he may harvest some vital votes toward the nomination.

Commie Truce Chief Eases Insults on UN

MUNSAN, Korea (P)—The chief Communist Korean truce negotiator softened his denunciation of the Allies today, but remained unyielding on the prisoner exchange issue—last obstacle to an armistice.

Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, head U.N. negotiator, told newsmen he attached no significance to North Korean Gen. Nam Il's omission of any mention the riot-ridden Allied prisoner camps on Kojia Island.

Harrison told the Reds during a 38-minute meeting at Panmunjom that "no further concessions will be forthcoming" on the April 28 Allied prisoner proposal. Another Red-demanded session was set for 11 a.m. tomorrow (9 p.m. Thursday EST).

The U.N. is unwilling to force repatriation of some 100,000 internees who have indicated they won't rejoin the Reds voluntarily. The Communists insist on return of all 169,000 Allied-held personnel.

Despite his moderate tone, Nam continued to charge the Allied stand on prisoners violated the Geneva Convention and "widened the breach" of disagreement over prisoner exchange.

He didn't use his usual terms of "slaughter" and "murder" to describe Allied treatment of prisoners.

The April 28 plan dropped Allied insistence on a ban on the reconstruction of airfields and eliminated Russia as a neutral armistice inspector.

Harrison ended his statement, saying: "If you are ready to accept our proposal today let us turn over to the liaison officers the final preparation of the armistice agreement otherwise, I suggest a recess until you desire to meet again."

The U.N. spokesman, Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, said Harrison's statement was not an effort to turn the "whole unresolved problem" back to liaison officers.

Nam turned down the offer for a recess and asked for tomorrow's meeting. Harrison replied:

"At every meeting you beg for successful automobile dealer, stacks up as one of the men who may hold the balance of power at the Republican convention here next month.

Personally, he can be said to lean toward Taft. He knows the Ohio senator well and respects him. Most of Summerfield's longtime personal friends are in Taft's camp.

Nothing would be easier for Summerfield than to plump for Taft, and he probably would take the majority of Michigan's 46 votes with him. If any such move were combined with similar action by Fine, it would come very close to giving Taft the nomination.

Do Your Legs Itch?

A Lack of Natural Skin Oils Often the Cause
Dry skin, a lack of natural skin oils, often causes maddening, persistent itching of legs and ankles. Resinol, a skin oil which has been medicated, oil-rich ointment that lubricates parched skin surface, acts in place of Nature's own missing oils. Resinol quickly relieves itching almost immediately. Comfort lasts for hours as Resinol Ointment helps Nature heal irritated spots.

Judy Garland Weds 3rd Time

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Judy Garland, everybody's kid sister a few years ago, was embarked on her third marriage today after a secret wedding to her business agent, Sid Luft.

But he'll have to wait until tomorrow to take up her wifely duties. While she's starring in her own show here, Luft was getting some bad news in Los Angeles: A judge decreed he must increase his child support payments to his second wife, Actress Lynn Bari, from $200 to $400 a month. They have a three year old son.

The story of Judy's wedding to Luft came out yesterday after reporters found Judy's true name, Frances Gumm Minnelli, on the marriage license register at Hollister.

Miss Katrina Lynn, the clerk, who complied with the couple's special request for a license on Sunday, learned only then that the girl with the dark glasses and slacks, with her hair done up in a tight bun, was the popular Judy.

No one else was surprised. The couple had announced in March they planned to marry—but they didn't say when.

It was the third marriage for each.

Miss Garland's former husbands are Compose, Conductor David Rose and Director Vincente Minnelli. She has a five year old daughter, Liza May Minnelli.

Mother Saves Son Who Nearly Drowns

JOPLIN, Mo., (AP)—Danny Cook, 21, was saved from drowning here yesterday by artificial respiration applied by his mother, and later by police and firemen. Danny had toppled into a fish pond in a neighbor's yard and two playmates notified the mother, Mrs. Eugene Cook, who found her son floating face down in the pool, unconscious.

Twenty minutes of artificial respiration revived the boy, and physicians at a hospital said he would live.

Fryers Cost Little More

By The Associated Press
Frying chickens and eggs cost a little more in most food stores this week. Potatoes, though much more plentiful, held close to the higher price levels reached last week and after their price ceilings were suspended.

Many fresh vegetables were lower in markets receiving sharply increased supplies from nearby truck gardens enjoying favorably warm growing weather. Citrus fruits, plums and cherries were mostly higher.

Frying chickens (with cranberry sauce) were adopted this year as the "official main dish" for Father's Day dinner Sunday by the National Father's Day committee.

But fryer prices in most sections were up two to a much as seven cents a pound over last week end. Poultry buyers for leading store chains said demand for the light-weight chickens has been good and supplies had been further reduced because recent low prices weight chickens has been good and that supplies had been further reduced.

Beef, pork and lamb prices showed little overall change.

The one to two cents a dozen advance in large eggs was attributed to warmer weather, which increases the difficulty of maintaining top egg quality and results in seasonally low production.

Potato prices soared as much as 50 per cent in many retail markets after the ceilings were lifted and wholesale quotations were at 29-cent highs in some cities, however. A few stores even held the retail price line at the old ceilings and said they would try to continue doing so until wholesale prices drop, as a feature to attract customers. Others said they would hold their potato buying to a minimum until prices returned to what their customers consider reasonable levels — and advised consumers to do likewise.

Snap beans, beets, broccoli, cabbage and cauliflower led the list of lower-priced vegetables this week. Best tomatoes were higher but there was a wide range of prices varying with quality and condition. Livelier demand strengthened escarole, fresh corn and celery prices.

Watermelon was becoming more plentiful.

Potato prices soared as much as 50 per cent in many retail markets after the ceilings were lifted and wholesale quotations were at 29-cent highs in some cities, however. A few stores even held the retail price line at the old ceilings and said they would try to continue doing so until wholesale prices drop, as a feature to attract customers. Others said they would hold their potato buying to a minimum until prices returned to what their customers consider reasonable levels — and advised consumers to do likewise.

Snap beans, beets, broccoli, cabbage and cauliflower led the list of lower-priced vegetables this week. Best tomatoes were higher but there was a wide range of prices varying with quality and condition. Livelier demand strengthened escarole, fresh corn and celery prices.

Watermelon was becoming more plentiful.

Mound Marks Grave Of Fasting Preacher

DAVISVILLE, Mo., (P)—A small, flower-covered mound today marks the grave of the Ozark preacher whose fast "to find the more life" ended in death.

An overflow crowd of about 600 persons attended the funeral service yesterday for the Rev. J. J. Ivis, who was buried next to the small Assembly of God Church here where he once served as pastor.

Ivis, 57, died last Monday in his home at nearby Cherryville in the 51st day of his fast.

Opposition To Neutral PW Survey

WASHINGTON (AP)—A proposal to invite neutral military leaders to observe the treatment of Communist prisoners of war on Strifort Island got a mixed reaction in Congress today. The suggestion by Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), was endorsed by President Truman.

Some Democratic senators said it would help offset Communist propaganda about the "mistreatment" of Red prisoners. But Republicans, if not hostile to the idea, expressed skepticism that it would prove effective.

One senator told a reporter he feared it might be taken as an admission of weakness.

President Truman suggested in a letter to Secretary of Defense Lovett yesterday that military men from five neutral nations be asked to visit Korea to see at first hand how Communist prisoners are treated by United Nations forces.

Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services committee and a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, advanced the idea in a call at the White House two days ago.

A visit to Kojima Island by high-ranking neutral military observers, Russell suggested, would be a means of refuting "the mass of falsehoods which are being broadcast to the world by the Communist propaganda machine."

Truman forwarded Russell's memorandum to Lovett with the comment that the proposal had a lot of merit.

"It seems to me," the President wrote, "that it would be well to ask Sweden, Switzerland, India, Pakistan and Indonesia to send military men to Korea to take a look at the situation and see what really is happening."

Sen. Robert Kerr of Oklahoma, one of Russell's rivals for the Democratic presidential nomination, promptly called it "an excellent suggestion." He told a reporter it would give representatives of other nations an opportunity to find out "the falseness of Communist propaganda and to brand it as such."

Similar comments were made by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) and Sen. Moody (D-Mich.). Moody said he was glad "to see the American government taking more initiative for counteracting false propaganda."

But Sen. Bridges (R-NH) took the view that "we don't need representatives of other nations to go there and tell us if we are conducting the prison camps properly."

Bridges, GOP floor leader of the Senate and top Republican on Russell's Armed Services Committee, said all kinds of reports already have been received and "each day adds some new phase to the disgraceful conditions on Kojima."

"The only trouble with American and U.N. supervision there is that they have been too lenient and have compromised their position," he said.

Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.), another member of the Armed Services Committee, said a visit to Kojima by neutral observers would do no harm but it added he was not hopeful "that it would stop the lies of Communist propaganda."

Jenny Lindstrom, Object of Court Action, Graduates

LOS ANGELES (AP)—While a bitter court dispute over her summer custody goes on in court, Jenny Ann Lindstrom, 13, graduates from junior high school today.

The girl's mother actress Ingrid Bergman, has filed suit to have her daughter visit her in Italy. The father, Dr. Peter Lindstrom, who divorced Miss Bergman after she bore a child out of wedlock to Italian Director Roberto Rossellini, opposes the visit.

Lindstrom, who has hurled charges that Rossellini is a former dope addict and keeper of mistresses, maintains the Rossellini home is not a proper environment for Jenny Ann. Miss Bergman and Rossellini are now wed and the actress is in a Rome hospital expecting twins.

Yesterday the U.S. embassy in Rome announced Rossellini has applied for a visa and wants to come here to testify in his wife's behalf and answer Lindstrom's assertions.

Lindstrom's attorney, Isaac Pacht, told the judge he feels Rossellini's coming would cause Jenny Ann "additional grief, commotion and trauma (mental shock)."

Judge Mildred Lillie stood by her earlier ruling that Rossellini may appear.

Earlier a psychiatrist, Dr. Charles Sturdevant, testified that Jenny Ann feels her mother let her down by taking up with the Italian director. He said the girl told him she didn't know her mother very well because "she was always off to work early in the morning, or off to New York or somewhere."

Contest Rule at GOP Meet May Give Taft Extra Votes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Supporters of Sen. Robert A. Taft are laughing up their sleeves these days. It's about a rule put through in the 1944 Republican national convention controlled by the forces of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, long a Taft rival. The rule stipulates that only seating contests affecting delegates-at-large may be presented to the convention for settlement.

The rule was not strictly adhered to in the 1948 convention which gave the New York governor a second presidential nomination. But Sen. Taft has indicated he will insist on its application at the coming convention in Chicago.

If he does and is upheld in committees expected to be dominated by Taft supporters, the contests between him and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower over 77 delegates from five southern states would be reduced to embrace just 18 delegates—four each from Georgia, Louisiana and Mississippi, and six from Texas.

Otherwise, the scrap would take in the entire delegations from those states—Georgia 17, Louisiana 15, Mississippi five, and Texas 38—plus two district delegates from Virginia. Eisenhower would be expected to benefit more from this broader field of contention, since Taft forces largely control the state convention and state committee machinery which are supposed to settle district delegate contests.

The deadline for filing notice of contests with the secretary of the national committee is 20 days or more before the July 7 convention opening. That is next Monday. None had been filed up to today, but inquiries of the rival state leaders in the five states developed replies that their notices will take in district as well as at-large delegates, leaving a legal as well as personal battle for the national convention.

The delegate contests this year are of great importance since the decision on their final seating could swing the presidential nomination to either of the two leading contenders. The Associated Press tabulation of delegates lists 464 favoring Taft to 391 for Eisenhower, 130 favoring five others and 208 uncommitted or in dispute. A majority—604—will be needed to win. Thirteen delegates remain to be selected.

The rule by which the 1944 and 1948 conventions operated—but which the 1952 convention could change—says:

"All contests arising in any state electing district delegates by district conventions, shall be decided by its state convention, or if the state convention shall not meet prior to the national convention, then by its state committee; and only contests affecting delegates-at-large shall be presented to the national convention."

That Taft will be challenged if he seeks to apply this rule to the biggest southern delegation in contest, Texas' 38, was emphasized last Friday by H. J. (Jack) Porter, Texas Eisenhower leader.

Porter said, "all delegate in Texas are chosen at large by vote of both the Republican and Democratic parties at their respective state convention. So the rule does not apply to the Texas delegation."

The rival factions are expected to line up this way in taking their contests before the national committee, credentials committee, and then the convention itself.

Georgia—two factions, each with a complete slate of 17 delegates will seek seats. One is headed by W. R. Tucker, has the support of the state's two national committee members and claims to be the "regular" organization. It was seated in the last two national conventions. This year it has 13 favoring Eisenhower, two for Taft, one for Warren and one undecided. Another faction headed by Roy G. Foster has all 17 for Taft.

Louisiana—Taft forces will send to Chicago a complete slate of 15 delegates. They will be opposed by 13 Eisenhower delegates.

Mississippi—Three delegations of five each will contest. The "black and tan" regular faction long recognized at national conventions is pro-Taft. The "lily white" group has split into two factions, one instructed for Eisenhower.

Texas—One delegation of 38 selected by the Taft forces gives four of its delegates to Eisenhower, the rest to Taft. Supporters of Eisenhower walked out of the pro-Taft meeting and named their own 38 but gave Taft five of these.

Virginia—The Third District selected rival slates of two delegates each, the "regular" convention naming one pro-Taft and one uncommitted and a "rump" session picking two pro-Eisenhower delegates. The state convention seated all four as delegates with half a vote each to avoid a floor fight.

"I learned something the other day," said a woman who had been fishing. "I learned there is fishing etiquette — I didn't know that before."

It seems that when somebody else is fishing you do not touch their pole. A woman was fishing near this girl when she got up and left saying to the girl: "Watch my pole while I'm gone."

The girl did — and the pole bobbed. So she just pulls in the fish, which is what she thought the other woman meant when she said "Watch my pole." It was a nice big fish she pulled in, too. "You should never do that," her husband told her. "That isn't fishing etiquette — never touch anybody else's pole."

"But it would have got away," argued the girl.

"That's all right," said the husband. "But don't touch the pole."

"Did he get that from Emily Post?" asked someone.

"I don't know, but that is fishing etiquette and I didn't know there was any etiquette about fishing," said the girl.

"Well, there is etiquette about golf, too, a lot of little unwritten courtesy laws that you are supposed to observe," someone else said.

"And, about bowling," said the girl who pulled in the fish, "I found that out, too."

"Dear me," said another woman. "I'm sure glad I don't do anything — I would hate like everything to have to be thinking about etiquette all the time."

Then going back to her fishing etiquette, the girl who had pulled in the fish commented: "That was only the second fish the girl had caught and she had been fishing all day long, but when she came back she didn't even say 'Thank you.'"

What's that about etiquette — well, maybe we are no follower of Emily Post fishing, bowling, golfing, tea parties or any place — but we do know when to say "Thank You," when we know whatever was done was intended as a favor. Our etiquette is just pure old country style of appreciation to well meaning people. H. L.

"Have you got your radio tubes with you?" asked the wife in a telephone conversation with a man who works downtown, and who knew he intended to have the tubes tested.

"Yes, I have," came the confident reply.

"Look in the sack and see," said the wife.

The man did — but instead of radio tubes he found a little pink plastic cup and some cookies wrapped in wax paper. Instead of picking up his radio tubes he had picked up the wrong sack — the sack in which was the little snack his young daughter was to take with her to Vacation Bible School.

The little girl had gotten as far as the front door of her home with the radio tubes when she discovered what was really in her sack and mommie had to fix another lunch right quick.

But it could have been worse, thinks the father. He could have gone on down to the radio shop with his tubes and he would have felt pretty silly pulling out a pink plastic cup and a few cookies. — H. L.

Pennsylvania Yankees

Penn Yan, in New York State, was given its name in a compromise between Pennsylvania and Yankee settlers, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

There's nothing like having other people tell everybody what you're going to do. When maybe you're not too sure yourself. President Truman says Gen. Eisenhower will be so surrounded by Republican reactionaries he'll become one. Taft says Ike will make a Democrat me-too campaign because that's what Dewey will tell him to do. That leaves a big field for maneuverers. © NEA

Truman Tears Up Original Draft of Letter to Carter

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON—President Truman wrote another personal letter the other day, this one to Amon Carter, No. 1 citizen of Fort Worth, Tex. However, he didn't mail it — at least, not the original draft.

He slept on it, finally tore the original draft up.

The inside fact is that when the President sounded off on Tidelands Oil at the Americans for Democratic Action dinner two weeks ago, a letter from Amon Carter was the cause of it.

Carter, famed for his efforts to keep the city of Fort Worth ahead of its rival Dallas, also famous for handing a ten-gallon hat to every prominent visitor, happens to be on friendly terms with President Truman. The President likes and respects him.

However, just as the Tidelands Oil bill was passed by Congress and sent to the White House, Carter wrote the President a letter arguing that the school children of Texas would be robbed of oil royalties if the bill were vetoed.

It was at this point that the President drafted a hot reply to Amon, then thought better of it, consulted with aides, and tore his letter up. Instead, he made a speech before the ADA, calling the Tidelands Oil bill "robbery in broad daylight."

Ferguson's Junker
Michigan's ever-angry Sen. Homer Ferguson was full of righteous wrath the other day against government-paid junkies for newspapers. But when his own globe-trotting at the taxpayers' expense came under fire, he managed to censor the objectionable information out of the public record.

With a commendable regard for economy, Ferguson vigorously lashed out against the policy of some government agencies to furnish free transportation for newsmen. This led Texas' caustic Sen. Tom Connally to remark: "The senator from Michigan (Ferguson) was flying all over the Far East in a government airplane. I am sure that I heard no objections to that."

"It was not in a government airplane," sputtered Ferguson.

"It might not have been a government airplane, but I am sure it was at the government's expense," drawled Connally.

"The senator from Rhode Island, Mr. Green, was along, too," was Ferguson's only defense.

It is the privilege of a senator, in case he sticks his foot in his mouth, to edit and alter his remarks on the Senate floor before the official record is published. With Connally's later consent, Ferguson took advantage of this privilege to keep the public from reading about his travels. But this column obtained a copy of the expurgated remarks, in case the public might be interested in reading what Ferguson didn't want them to read.

Kefauver and Truman

The personal talk with President Truman and Senator Kefauver last week was pleasant but inconclusive.

Kefauver told Truman that he had come to report on the state of the Democratic party around the country, and they talked for about 20 minutes on party matters with the President asking about various local leaders. His memory for names was remarkable.

Kefauver then said he hoped the President would take no part in the prenomination fight, and Truman promised that he would not. He added that he hoped the race "would leave no scars that would not be healed after the convention." Kefauver replied that, as far as he was concerned, there would be no scars.

The President then talked about his veto of the Tidelands Oil bill, and Kefauver promised to uphold the veto when it comes up in the Senate. The visit was polite and friendly, and that's all.

Capital News Capsules

Maine Primary—Senator Brewster of Maine rushed back to Washington in the middle of his campaign last week to try to stop an investigation of himself. The Senate elections committee had sent an investigator to Maine to check on testimony that Brewster offered $25,000 to a liquor dealer in order to influence his opponent, Governor Payne. Brewster was furious when he learned about the investigation. He caught the first plane back to the Senate and slipped around to see the committee members. The Spanish government's hired lobbyist, Charles Patrick Clark, also got busy lobbying, trying to persuade the committee to call off the dogs.

Navy Politics—Secretary of the Navy Kimball again defied his boss, Secretary of Defense Lovett, by sounding off on supercarriers recently. Last January Kimball got in hot water with Lovett by calling for 10 supercarriers. At a closed-door meeting with business men not long ago, Kimball not only repeated his demand, but said he hadn't asked for enough supercarriers — the number should be doubled.

Southern Delegates—The Taft group pulled another raw deal recently that didn't get into the papers. In Birmingham, Curtis Adkins, for Taft, and Claude Varde-man, for Eisenhower, shook hands on a deal in the Tutweiler Hotel in Birmingham, to split Alabama's delegates at large — two for Taft and two for Ike. But, after making the bargain, Adkins double-crossed the Eisenhower forces and rammed through three delegates for Taft.

Koje Island Punishment—The Senate armed services committee is not satisfied with the light punishment given to the Koje Island generals. At a closed-door meeting, committee members agreed that Generals Francis Dodd and Charles Colson got off too easy when they were busted to colonels. They also agreed to call all the principals in the Koje Island fiasco back to the states for stiff cross-examination. Meanwhile, the committee staff is studying a secret file, three inches thick, on the army's handling of Communist war prisoners.

What Next In Korea—British and American intelligence disagree on whether the Communists intend to launch a new offensive in Korea. American agents admit the Communists have reinforced their ground and air forces, but they do not look for any new attack. On the other hand, the British definitely believe this buildup is the prelude to a new gigantic offensive timed with a breakdown in the Korean truce talks. This fear is the reason behind Prime Minister Churchill's statement to the House of Commons last week about the Communist buildup.

Behind The Curtain—U. S. observers in Rumania report two new divisions of Russian troops are about to move into Rumania as a follow-up to the purge of Ana Pauker. Thousands of Rumanians are building a huge base for them outside the town of Timisoara not far from the Yugoslav border. Ana Pauker is crushed by her demotion and can't understand what happened. The truth is that the Russian ambassador in Bucharest thought she was getting lazy and recommended she be purged. Ana tried to phone Stalin direct by telephone, in a grandstand effort to block the announcement, but the Kremlin operator told her Stalin wasn't in.

Death in the Sierras

By Doris Hudson Moss

THE STORY: Rosemary Curtis, on a vacation in the Sierras, finds that people are continually mistaking her for a girl named Elsie Martinson. In addition, someone has shot a rifle bullet into her car and tried to poison her dog. Then, during a storm, a scream is heard. The group at the lodge run to the tent occupied by Prof. and Mrs. Ordell and find a woman stabbed.

IV

DR. ROBERTS took Mrs. Ordell's pulse, looked at the wound, at her poor eyes, while Miss Hansen hovered near him, and with awful finality he shook his head.

Professor Ordell broke into tragic sobs. I turned away, ill and shaken.

Sue sniffed about the floor of the tent and strained at her leash whimpering to go into the forest. Mr. James suddenly took command of the situation. "Nothing here must be touched. The law says a body must lie as it is found. I'll phone the coroner right away."

Everyone interrupted him, talking, weeping, offering theories. But he stood there, hat in hand out of respect to the dead, wheezing rhythmically and saying, "Go back to the Lodge. She's gone and no help for it. I'll phone for the law."

But Mr. James was stubborn and dominant and we all obeyed him. All that is, except the Doctor. He wanted to leave a guard for Mrs. Ordell's body but James said, "No need, what's done is done."

We reached the Lodge, wet, frightened and sad, and we huddled around the fire in mute misery.

James tried to telephone to Blue Valley for the police. But the lightning had done its work; the wire was dead.

Then quickly, out of the stricken silence by the fireside, Dr. Roberts faced the crowd.

"James," he said shortly and in no gentle tone, "where were you when this thing happened?" Mr. James hesitated just the fraction of a second. "I was in the pantry back of the kitchen opening a bag of sugar for the cook. And," he added as an angry afterthought, "what the devil do you mean by asking me?"

"I'll temporarily represent the law," Dr. Roberts replied evenly. "Jeff was out, too, and reached Mrs. Ordell before the rest of us. Where were you?" he curtly asked the boy.

JEFF looked terribly serious but answered fast enough, "I was in my tent putting my suitcase under the bed in case the tent leaked. I heard a scream and ran in the direction it came from. I heard a sound in the Ordell tent and I went in—I guess—just as she died."

Roberts considered Jeff Downey's reply for a moment. "When did you reach the tent—I mean, how long before we reached it?"

"Why," said Jeff rather desperately, "probably two or three minutes."

"Then she died as you reached her, presumably. How far is your tent from the Ordells' tent?" Jeff stared at him. "I didn't do it!" His voice rose to a sharp, high staccato of protest.

The silence seemed a terrible accusation. Jeff was deathly pale and, more than ever, I pitied him. These people were very glib about suspecting others of murder. I felt smothered in horror and fear.

"Professor Ordell," Dr. Roberts' voice broke the silence. "what was your wife doing when you left her?"

The Professor raised a piteous face. "She was packing some things in her suitcase to protect them from the rain. But Dr. Roberts, what right have you to question us?"

"I have," he replied, "the right invested in me by my citizenship. Now to continue. Why did you not wait to walk back to the Lodge with your wife?"

The Professor swallowed, blew his nose and then said, "She asked me to come back."

"Why? Had any word transpired that might help to explain this tragedy?"

"None whatever," repeated Ordell and as he spoke he turned and looked searching at Jeff. Then he once more bowed his head into his hands.

The Doctor suddenly drew a gun from his pocket and held it to that it covered the group.

"I'm sorry," Roberts said steadily, "every hand up or I'll shoot and I don't mean anything but just that. Miss Curtis, will you kindly remove the weapons that you will find on everyone?"

My knees were shaking like the leaves of the storm-beaten, quaking aspens that grew near the Lodge windows, but, somehow, I forced myself to follow the Doctor's command. He seemed, at least, capable and, I prayed, honest.

Professor Ordell astonished me by tossing a revolver onto the table.

To my complete horror and amazement, I found that everyone present, save one and myself, carried a gun or knife.

Miss Hansen carried a pair of sharp shears in a sheath of handkerchiefs. Mr. Alberts carried an automatic in his hip pocket. His wife carried a small revolver in her dress. Mr. James had a pistol in his left breast coat pocket. Mrs. James drew a small revolver from the bosom of her dress. Two of the college boys carried knives. Rhumba carried a razor.

Jeff, alone, had no weapon.

WHEN all the weapons were gathered together Dr. Roberts said, "And yours, Miss Curtis?"

"I have no weapon of any kind," I snapped. "And what is more, I believe I'm among gangsters, and if ever this storm abates and I can get out of here alive I'll turn the lot of you over to the police!"

It was at that moment that Mrs. James stepped forward and searched me quickly and efficiently. As she finished without any formidable result, she gave me a baffled look.

How to have a winning TELEPHONE PERSONALITY

by EMILY POST

We're often judged by the way we use telephone service. Good telephone technique and good telephone manners are important to a winning personality... and help you get the most from your telephone service.

A housewife brings up an interesting point about long distance telephone calls: "I have trouble saying all I want to say, briefly and concisely, when I'm talking against time. What do you suggest?"

It is a good idea to do a little planning ahead of time. Keep a pad and pencil near your telephone. Make notes of the things you want to talk about—you'll be surprised how they help you stay on the subject. With the right planning, you can say as much in a three-minute call as you can in an exchange of letters. And call by number, whenever you can. Service is faster—often twice as fast.

Perhaps you have wondered if it is ever permissible to ask "Who is calling, please?"

At home or in the office, it is always perfectly correct for the person answering the telephone to ask, "Who is calling, please?" No one should take offense at this question. Anyone should be willing to give his name and state his business just as he would if calling at your front door.

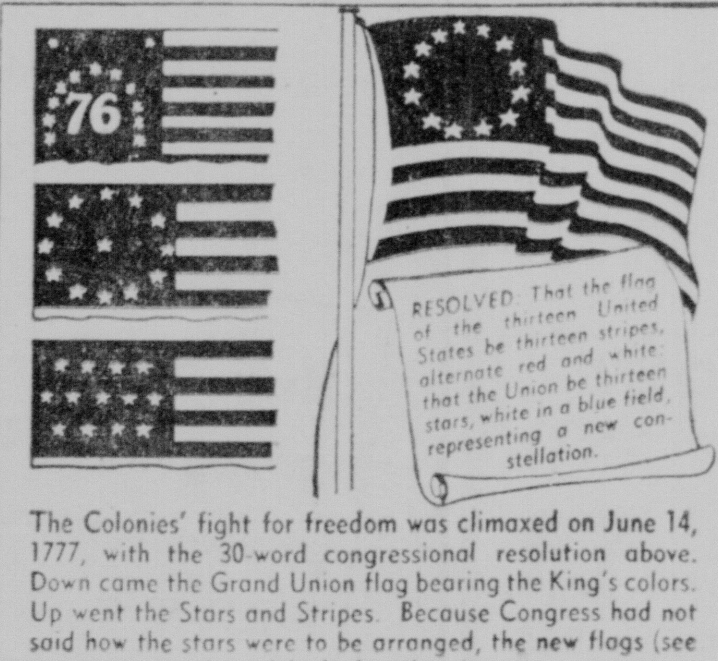

A friend asks, "Do you have any advice on care of the telephone instrument itself?"

Yes, telephone users would do well to realize the value of their service depends in part on the care they give their telephones. Keep the cord free of twists and tangles that can injure the tiny wires inside. Spruce up the telephone with a soft, dry cloth—never with water or any other liquid. Keep the instrument on a sturdy stand or desk top and away from the edge where it might get bumped to the floor.

THE STORY OF OLD GLORY

The Colonies' fight for freedom was climaxed on June 14, 1777, with the 30-word congressional resolution above. Down came the Grand Union flag bearing the King's colors. Up went the Stars and Stripes. Because Congress had not said how the stars were to be arranged, the new flags (see insets) lacked uniformity.

Sen. McCarthy Probe Behind Closed Doors

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators investigating charges by Sen. Benton (D-Conn.) against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) called Russell M. Arundel of Washington, D.C., and Warren, Va., for closed-door questioning today.

Previous testimony has brought out that Arundel, formerly registered with the Senate as a lobbyist, endorsed a $20,000 note signed by McCarthy in obtaining a 1947 loan from the Appleton, Wis., State Bank.

A Senate rules subcommittee touched on the loan and other financial matters during a public hearing a month ago on one of Benton's charges in support of his resolution looking toward McCarthy's expulsion from the Senate.

The hearing was concerned with Benton's charge that McCarthy "grossly violated" senatorial ethics in accepting $10,000 in 1948 from the Lustron Prefabricated Housing Corp. for an article on housing.

McCarthy has contended his acceptance of the fee was entirely proper. He said he performed a public service in writing the article and getting it published.

Public testimony about McCarthy's debts and other financial affairs was halted after subcommittee members questioned the propriety of probing into them unless they were related to the subject under inquiry.

Evidence previously presented was that McCarthy paid off the $20,000 note endorsed by Arundel.

One of Benton's principal charges is that McCarthy committed perjury and fraud in pressing his Communist-in-government charges.

McCarthy, in turn, has retorted that both the Communist party and Benton are trying to "smear McCarthy out of office." He also has filed a two-million-dollar libel suit against Benton and has introduced a resolution asking the rules subcommittee to investigate Benton.

Pop's Goin' Fishin', Mom's Goin' Along to Catch Fish

NEW YORK (AP)—Millions of American husbands are going forth now to ply the nation's streams with rod and reel.

And guess who's going along? Mom!

The lady fisherman is a rising figure in the world's oldest sport. Just why is beyond me. I have become reconciled to the fact that baseball no longer could get by without the financial benefit of lady rooters. Lady wrestlers I can understand, as they get paid for their hair-pulling mayhem.

But the why and the wherefore of the enormous increase in the number of lady anglers escapes me altogether. Women are highly practical creatures, and if there is anything more impractical than dangling a line in a stream and waiting around for a fish to bite on it, please name it. I can't.

Men know that fishing is an illogical business, of course, and that is why it has appealed to them for centuries. They enjoy romantic nonsense, and always have. The more senseless a thing is the greater appeal it has for many men.

Fishing is a perfect escape from reality for them, a chance to daydream under a summer sun, away from the cares of husbandhood and parenthood. And a fishing party made up of the right kind of fellows never even bothers to drop a hook into the water at all. They get out the jug and the cards and settle down happily to the real purpose of the trip. Anyone of the group who insists on fishing is shouted down by all as a traitor.

This, of course, is perfect fishing. Everybody has a swell time, including the fish, who pick up a few sandwich crumbs. Nobody gets hurt.

Who really wants to catch a fish anyway? If you do, you have to carry it home, clean it—a messy job—and stow it in the refrigerator, where it smells up the rest of the food. If you hook a record size fish, the taxidermist charges you $42.50 to stuff it. You hang it on the wall then, where it catches until the day it falls off and conks one of your children on the head.

The entrance of women into fishing has changed it from an individual manly sport into a family industry. Papa may not care a hang whether he catches what is called a piscatorial prize, but mama does. She didn't go all that distance for nothing. She wants to bring something home.

She goes about the task as grimly as if her husband was a bachelor again, hidden beneath the surface and trying to evade her lure. "That is why I believe more and more wives like to go fishing," one veteran told me. "Every time they haul up a wet, dripping fish it gives them the same thrill they got when they first snared their man. It's eerie, I tell you."

This same old rascal has a theory also why women often turn out to be better anglers than their husbands.

"A woman drops in her line and the fish swings up, looks at it and sneers," he said. "Then he looks up through the water and sees staring down at him some frizzle-haired monster overflowing a pair of blue jeans. She is wearing dark goggles and her nose is covered with lumps of sunburn cream.

"The fish breaks out laughing. 'Ho, ho, ho!' This is something the other fish ought to see. He opens his mouth, and turns his head to call his buddies—and accidentally the hook swings into his mouth. 'I suppose a million fish a year are caught just that way.'"

Although there were many census in the ancient world, the Middle Ages developed a pre-justice against them which extended into comparatively modern times.

No-hitters seem to be thefad in the minor division of the Little League. Two hurlers, T. Guilbault of the Redbirds and Kurtz of the Rockets, tossed that kind of baseball in two of the three games played at Housel Park Wednesday night and enshrined themselves in the Little League's Hall of Fame.

Guilbault was the second Redbird moundsman to turn the no-hit trick since Reeves did the same thing for the team the previous night. As a result the Redbirds are in a first place tie with the Tigers and Hornets, all three teams being unbowed in two starts.

Redbird batters collected 21 hits to help Guilbault in his game and won handily, 29 to 1, over the Giants. R. Dirk, Redbird catcher who has been on the receiving end for the no-hitters, had six hits in seven trips for the two games and is batting a terrific .856 pace. Kurtz pitched his no-hitter for the Rockets as they edged the Bluebirds 3-2. He had one of the two hits for the winners.

In the other game of the night, the Hornets stung the Cyclones 23-5 in a game that had to be called after three innings because of the 1 1/2 hour limit. Manager Hunter had his Hornets hitting and running and taking advantage of every bobble of the opponents.

Sports Roundup--

Veeck-Hornsby Mystery: How Did They Continue So Long?

NEW YORK (AP)—The wonder is not that Bill Veeck and Rogers Hornsby fell out, but that their strange alliance lasted even as long as it did.

Except for their mutual love for baseball, Veeck, the ebullient young promotional genius, and Hornsby, the steady-eyed martinet of the diamond, had absolutely nothing in common. It would be nearly impossible to imagine two more opposite individuals.

Both were fully aware of this when Veeck called in the great hall of famer and signed him to a three-year contract. Friends and admirers of both men shook their heads at the time and predicted with finality that the Rajah would not finish out his first season as pilot of the Browns.

In choosing Hornsby, the grim perfectionist, to handle his team of rookies and cast-offs, Veeck seemed to this writer to be making a determined and rather noble effort to prove to his critics and the fans of St. Louis that he could cut the buffoonery and become deadly serious when it suited his needs.

He knew Hornsby would be unbending, that as long as Rajah held the job he would be the absolute boss on the field and would stand for no front office interference. It took courage for a fellow such as Veeck to commit himself to a deal of that kind, and perhaps he should be given credit for the try.

"We'll have no trouble, Rogers and I," Bill said seriously in training camp. "I didn't hire him because I wanted a companion, but because he's the greatest baseball manager in the world. He'll run the club on the field and my job will be to try to get him the players he wants."

The evidence seems to be that the game's Barnum made a mighty effort. He remained amazingly quiet while the Brownies made their fine early run and permitted Hornsby to take the bows. It was not, in fact, until the past weekend that word reached this outpost that Bill had weakened in his resolve.

The news that he had telephoned from St. Louis ordering Hornsby to protest the first game of Sunday's doubleheader with the Yankees, and that Rajah had ignored the dictate, caused those interested in the "great experiment" to grin widely and comment that it shouldn't be long now. It wasn't. Veeck admitted he had stood the strain as long as he could without exploding.

No blame can be attached to Hornsby. He told Bill and anyone else who asked him that he would run the Browns in his own way or not at all. It even was typed in his contract that "there would not be any of them matters" on the field while he was manager. When the old batting immortal found Veeck couldn't keep his part of the bargain he brought a show-down.

It was good to have him back in the big leagues even for so short a time and we hope it won't be his last visit.

Marty Marion, who takes over probably is much better suited than Hornsby to the task of managing Veeck. The great shortstop has a sunny disposition and no marked aversion either to midgeets or fireworks. He did not have a happy experience managing the Cardinals last season, but he and Veeck might make a good combination, Marty won't find things dull, at any rate.

The gold cup, presented each year to the owner of the winning Kentucky Derby horse, has been of the same design since 1924.

Babe Ruth was the home run champion of the American League 12 times.

Blues Belted 8 to 4 By Leading Brewers

By The Associated Press

Milwaukee skipped into a two-game budge atop the American Association race Wednesday night by belting the second-place Kansas City Blues 8-4 with a 16-hit volley.

Gene Mauch led the Brewers' onslaught with a double and three singles to drive in four runs. The collection boosted the former Brooklyn Dodger and Chicago Cub to .556 in batting since he took over regularly at shortstop on June 3.

Don Bollweg and Bill Renna slammed homers for the Blues in the first two innings off Virgil Jester, who then pitched two-hit ball through the eighth.

SAFB Defeats T&C Here 7-1 Wednesday Eve

Under the lights on an extremely hot night, the Town and Country baseball club was defeated Wednesday evening at Liberty Park, 7 to 1, by the SAFB club. Each team secured four hits and it was one of the most interesting contests staged thus far this season for the home boys.

Jan Estes was on the mound for the club from the base with the battery for Town and Country being Estes, Miller and Miller. After the second inning the game turned into a pitchers' duel and the feature from that early stage was a long double by "Corky" Estes in the fifth against the left field fence. Junior Hill of T and C stole his ninth base for the season.

Dean Edwards and "Corky" Estes have been added to the Town and Country club, the latter being a pitcher and also a fast, ground covering shortstop.

Town and Country travels out of the city Sunday for an out-of-town game.

Hank Dreyer, now a New York A.C. athlete, has won 19 national championships in the hammer, discus, 56 and 35 pound weight throws in 22 years.

Country Club Lady Golfers Play Elms Hills Team Tues.

The Lady Golfers of the Country Club were guests of the Elm Hills Ladies Tuesday for golf and luncheon.

Those golfing were: Nell Gouge, Phil Holt, Lucy Maunders, Margaret Ann Parker, Mrs. Matheson, Mayme Dwyer, Mary Studer, Maxine Wertz, Trudy Wilson, Paula Wright, Fern Hannigan, Ann Swafford, Lucy Hayes, Wanda Parker, Mrs. Glenn, Ola Wright, May Barnett, and Ann Preston.

Prizes were awarded on a point system and were won by Nell Gouge, Lucy Hayes, Mayme Dwyer and Mary Studer. Helen Emo, unable to play because of a sprained hand, acted as score keeper for a four-hole. There were some good scores turned in by ladies from both clubs, especially for this early in the season.

Barbour Catching For Mizzou Tigers In 'World Series'

Carl Barbour, Sedalia, catching ace for the University of Missouri Tigers, is scheduled to do the receiving Thursday night for the 13-game winners when the Tigers meet the Colorado State Bears in the national collegiate "world series".

The game will be at Omaha, Neb., and the winner will meet the victor of the Michigan-Holy Cross game on Friday. The Tigers pulled a ten-game winning streak in qualifying for the Omaha series.

Don Boenker is slated to hurt the opener for the Tigers with Dick Atkinson to get the assignment for Friday night. The Tigers hope to bring home the third national championship to the Big Seven Conference within a year. Heat and Hogan Hamper Hopefuls As US Open Golf Opens Today

DALLAS (AP)—Two intruders, heat and Ben Hogan, threatened to complicate matters today as the familiar figures of golf's tournament trail began their annual quest for the biggest prize of all, the United States Open Championship.

Hogan, of course, was regarded as the most serious threat as the vanguard of the field of 162 players began to stream down the bottlenecked fairways of the Northwood Course.

The wiry little man from Ft. Worth, who plays in only a few selected tournaments each year, smashed the solidarity of the regular "tourists" by winning the last two open championships. His rivals wouldn't like for him to do it again, but they can't deny him the place among the top three or four favorites.

The sticky heat, which hasn't kept a few players from scorching the course in practice, may have a more serious effect if it continues through Saturday. The contenders will have to play 36 holes on that last day and the strength-sapping Texas sun may take a more severe toll than those old enemies of tourers—namely golfers, par and pressure.

The local weather bureau forecast continued 90-degree temperatures today with no relieving rain.

The top favorites, Hogan, Sammy Snead and Lloyd Mangrum, are getting odd as athletes go— from 37 to 40 years—and most of their strongest rivals aren't exactly young. You don't find fuzzy-cheeked kids winning major tournaments these days and the open championship.

title hasn't gone to a rank outsider since Sam Parks won at Oakmont in 1935.

But the pressure of competing for a title that is worth many times the value of its $4,000 top prize money, and the toughened-up course, remained as important factors although early estimates of the probable winning score have been revised downward.

The pros, who were mentioning 72-hole totals of 283 or 284 a few days ago before the steel-tough bermuda grass rough was tumbled a bit and the tree-lined course was spruced up for the tournament, now are saying a par 280 score will be needed to win.

Northwood will play 6,782 yards with a par of 35-35-70 for the names these days and the open championship.

Dog Saved From Death

NEW YORK (AP)—Skippy almost went to the gas chamber as a three-time loser.

The 2-year-old white fox terrier was on trial before a health department official, accused of biting his third victim. All seven members of his owner's family turned out to tell the judge how Skippy had saved their lives by awakening them when fire broke out in their home last December.

Then the latest "bite" victim admitted he had really only been scratched. Skippy went free.

Bakes Own Wedding Cake

DETROIT (AP)—Frank Gambino wanted his wedding cake to be just so—so he baked it himself.

He ended up with a cake bigger than he was. It was 9 feet high and weighed 300 pounds. It was built in several tiers with cake-like pillars holding up each tier.

The base had seven steps leading up to a miniature church in front of which were figures of the bride and groom and members of the wedding party.

Marjorie Haines, only girl on the U.S. Olympic Equestrian team, worked in a dress shop to help pay for her training.
